

Dear NIH Family,

At the NIH Supply Center, we value not only your safety, but also the safety of our employees.

With the inclement weather forecasted for Thursday, February 18, 2021, we have made every attempt to anticipate deliveries ahead of schedule and keep you informed.

We will continue to monitor the weather and organize our logistics operations in line with OPM guidance and keep you updated in real time.

If you have any questions about your order status ahead of next week, our Customer Service Team is mobilized to support you at NIHSC-CustomerService@od.nih.gov.

Thank you for your partnership in ONENIH, we can't do what we do, without you!
